

Aftel Certified applies to all the essences that I use and sell

- I never use synthetics. All of my plant essences are derived from 100% pure & natural botanical sources.
- The vast majority of the oils that I use and sell are either wild-harvested or farmed in small batches with sustainable practices and without pesticides.
- I search all over the world for the best aromatic profile of a given essence. If a better version comes my way, I replace it immediately and do not sell or use anything second-best.
- My isolates are derived from pure essential oils, from the named botanical plant source. I do not work with or sell isolates that are derived from bacteria, yeast, or synthetic sources.
- All of my essences are cruelty-free, with no animal testing. My animal ingredients are either sustainably collected or antique.
- I do not use any artificial ingredients, glycols, GMOs, mineral oils, parabens, PEGS, petrochemicals, phthalates, silicones, or sulfates.
